Overview

An amazing product, Price Scheduler extends the product's special price functionality which helps you set it for selected days of the week and specified hours of the day. It provides you an option to plan and schedule price offers & promotion prices for each product of your store. Using this extension special price for products can be set for limit hours in a day, on specific days of the week. You can add special price for occasions or promotional offers in advance in an effective way. It saves your time and makes you free from the hectic routine to manually change special prices for products. Products are automatically added to sales or selected category while having scheduled price set.

Why Price Scheduler?
